Tulsa, Okla. – As part of their ongoing 10-year anniversary celebration, 108| Contemporary is hosting a pop-up event called "Craft Vibes" on Saturday, May 13 from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. The event is set to coincide with Tulsa International Mayfest taking place in the Tulsa Arts District.

The come-and-go, free admission event offers fine craft through food and beverage for purchase from partners including Nätv, American Inheritance Confectionary, and Nothing’s Left Brewing. Nätv will have a build-your-own fry bread craft available for purchase alongside craft chocolate and local brews from American Inheritance and Nothing’s Left, respectively.

108| Contemporary gallery and shop will be open from 12:00 to 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 13, 2023. Visitors can experience the current exhibition, “Marilyn Artus: Assorted American Commentary,” SHOP 108, and stay for the craft snacks and beverages. We will also offer free take-and-make craft kits and an interactive group project designed to introduce the community to new types of craft art in a hands-on way.

About 108| Contemporary

108| Contemporary originated as Brady Craft Alliance in 2009. For four years, Brady Craft Alliance brought craft artists to the area with exhibitions like VisionMakers and Crafting Ritual & Identity, our first Oklahoma invitational exhibition. We decided to create a new identity for ourselves to acknowledge our move to the Mathews Warehouse complex in 2013. The Tulsa Arts District is overflowing with energy and entertainment, and we wanted to match it with a new vision with programming and more ambitious exhibitions. Our top priority is to inspire, educate, and recognize contemporary art that honors traditional art practices and the quality of which it’s made.
